NEW OPENING REVIEW

You don't need to know SoHo from TriBeCa to enjoy a slice of heavenly New York-style pizza and all that jazz

By Irene Mariena Mohamad

Over the years, the constant barrage of food channels' shows have done a really good job in teasing and making us drool, as many of us would never get the chance to visit any of the places or restaurants featured. But every once in a while, the food Gods answer our prayers when a chain or local affiliate opens up in our backyard – saving us a trip halfway around the world and no longer making us wonder what the food actually tastes like. Enter Mikey's Pizza – purportedly a slice of the real deal straight from the Big Apple or New York itself.

The first thing you notice when you walk into Mikey's is, well, Mikey himself hovering near the counter – eager, friendly, and ready to assist customers with questions or bring out food and drinks to patrons. The second thing you realise is that the slices of pizzas are enormous. A whole pizza or pie is 18 inches (about 46cm) in diameter or about the size of two iPads side by side.

One size only – BIG!

The way it works here is you take a seat, peruse the menu, order, and pay upfront at the counter for your meal. Servers or Mikey himself will bring out the food to you with a smile. The walls are adorned with photos of people, things, and places reminiscent of all things American.

We ordered slices of the classic New York pizza (RM8.88), meatball pizza (RM10.88) and pizza Bianco (RM10.88). The classic New York pizza really lived up to our expectations; the tomato sauce base was flavourful while the mozzarella cheese and grated Grana Padano cheese combination for topping made us chow it down faster.

The meatball pizza was decent but the pizza Bianco ('white' in Italian) was another pleasant surprise – mozzarella, ricotta, cheddar, and goat cheeses fused to perfection. We couldn't tell the cheeses apart and it didn't matter as the pizza was delicious.

Pizza Bianco – the signature four-cheese pizza that will rock your world

Besides pizza, we also tried the Manhattan waffle fries (RM15.88) which is a heap of crispy waffle-cut fries topped with cheddar cheese sitting on a pile of thinly sliced beef steak that was sinfully decadent.

The boneless buffalo chicken wings (RM12.88) was definitely the star of our meal; the tender, spicy, and tangy bite-sized chicken pieces coated with Mikey's special sauce and blue cheese dip really made our taste buds sing in harmony.

The boneless buffalo chicken wings were gobbled down too easily

We managed to also pack in the Philly cheese steak (RM17.88) which consists of beef steak slices, caramelised onions, and roasted capsicum tucked in a house-made hot dog bun.

For casual and express dining with novelty pizzas and a break from your usual pizza programming, Mikey's Pizza will whet your appetite ... and your stomach will thank you for it.

Recommended dishes: classic New York pizza, Manhattan waffle fries, boneless buffalo chicken wings, pizza Bianco
